June 2005

Greetings from Peru,

We hope to find you well and keeping cool as you head into the summer months in the US. As you enter into summer, we are entering into winter; the days are cooler here in Lima, the sky is full of clouds and a light mist falls many days. We are grateful that, in spite of the geography that separates us, we are nevertheless connected as the family of Christ.

We are thankful for you and for the prayers, love, and support you send in so many different ways as our partner in ministry. We greatly appreciate all you do!

In our newsletter a couple of years ago, we asked for your prayers as our MTW team here in Lima was restructured and refocused. We also asked for your prayers concerning our role in this new team. We visited Lima during the restructuring period, and through conversations with our team leader, Mark Berry, we all agreed that it would be good for us to serve with the team for a two-year period to see if God was still leading us this way.

Throughout our time of service here, we have continued to pray for God's leading after this period. God has been gracious in answering these prayers and in confirming that He is directing us elsewhere. This decision has not come easily or been taken lightly. We have enjoyed our time here and learned much, not only about ministry and working with Peruvians, but also about ourselves. We have also have seen wonderful things come into place for the ministry in Peru. Through the leaders, churches and ministry programs, many people's lives are being drastically changed as God moves in the hearts of people. He is doing great things through this team and will continue to do so in the years to come.

We are in conversations with our team leader, MTW leadership in the Atlanta office, and other leaders about what the future may hold for us. We are encouraged about the possibilities of staying in missions overseas with MTW and are currently exploring other ministry opportunities. We are also open to serving stateside, depending on how God leads us.

In the coming months, we will be handing over our ministry responsibilities as we continue to pray, communicate with you, and explore how and where God is leading us. We will finish our time here in Lima and return to the US for HMA (Home Mission Assignment) in mid-November. It has been almost four years since we visited many of our churches and supporters, and we would love to connect with you during our time in the States at your church missions conference, by phone, or in individually. We are already scheduled for some conferences. If you'd like us to attend your church's missions conference, please let us know as soon as possible.

We will be faithful to keep you updated about how the Lord is leading us during the coming months. If you desire, feel free to contact us or Bill Yarbrough, MTW's International Director for Latin America.

Thank you again for your support of our ministry here in Lima, We look forward to serving with you in the future wherever God leads.

In Christ,

Frank & Suzanne
