

JOSHUA AND MICAH UPDATES

Boys will be boys!! Joshua and Micah are “all boy” and we are loving it! (Most of the time ☺) These guys are growing and doing well. They are continuing to adjust to going to preschool 3 days per week, but understand enough Spanish to where they have made new friends and can understand their teacher. They are excited about the newest member of our family that is growing in mommy’s tummy, but are split on whether we should have a boy or girl. Micah has graciously offered to help change diapers while Joshua probably won’t even be in the same room when these events take place. While they do miss family from the States, they are quickly mastering the phone and talking with relatives on a regular basis.

Hard at work hunting for Easter eggs! Baskets and egg hunts are not the tradition here in Peru but the Tupperware was quite sufficient.
